APPLICATION FOR HISTORICAL CELL-SITE INFORMATION PER
§ 2703(d)

No. 17 MISC 2576

APPLICATION OF THE UNITED STATES
FOR AN ORDER FOR HISTORICAL CELL-SITE INFORMATION
PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 2703(d)

The United States of America, moving by and through its undersigned counsel, respectfully submits this application for an Order pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2703(d). The proposed Order would require T-Mobile, a cellular service provider, located in Parsipanny, New Jersey, to disclose certain records and other information pertaining to the cellular telephone assigned call number (929) 355-7603, as described in Part I of Attachment A to the proposed Order. The records and other information to be disclosed are described in Part II of Attachment A. In support of this application, the United States asserts:

LEGAL BACKGROUND

1. T-Mobile is a provider of an electronic communications service, as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 2510(15). Accordingly, the United States may use a court order issued under § 2703(d) to require T-Mobile to disclose the items described in Part II of Attachment A, as these records pertain to a subscriber of electronic communications service and are not the contents of communications. See 18 U.S.C. § 2703(c)(1).

2. This Court has jurisdiction to issue the proposed Order because it is “a court of competent jurisdiction,” as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 2711(3). See 18 U.S.C. § 2703(d). Specifically, the Court is a district court of the United States that has jurisdiction over the offense being investigated. See 18 U.S.C. § 2711(3)(A)(i).

3. A court order under § 2703(d) “shall issue only if the governmental entity offers specific and articulable facts showing that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the contents of a wire or electronic communication, or the records or other information sought, are relevant and material to an ongoing criminal investigation.” 18 U.S.C. § 2703(d). Accordingly, the next section of this application sets forth specific and articulable facts showing that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records and other information described in Part II of Attachment A are relevant and material to an ongoing criminal investigation.

THE RELEVANT FACTS

4. The United States is investigating a possible violation by Ted Peters of 18 U.S.C. § 922(g) (felon-in-possession of a firearm), and the terms of Peters’s supervised release, imposed on January 20, 2016, by the Honorable Kiyoo A. Matsumoto, United States District Judge for the Eastern District of New York, in the matter titled United States v. Peters, Criminal Docket No. 11-587.

5. Specifically, after midnight on August 20, 2017, in the Canarsie neighborhood of Brooklyn, four people were shot in shootout at an outdoor party in the back yard of a home. An eyewitness to the shooting identified Peters in a photo array as one of the shooters.

6. Based on the identification, the U.S. Probation Department has alleged that Peters violated the terms of his supervised release in the above-referenced criminal case by committing new criminal conduct, including the New York crimes of attempted murder, assault and criminal possession of a weapon. Furthermore, because Peters has previously been convicted of a felony, the shooting would constitute the federal offense of possessing a firearm after a felony conviction, in violation of 18 U.S.C § 922(g).

7. On August 28, 2017, Peters was arraigned before United States Magistrate Judge Jamie Orenstein, who ordered Peters detained pending resolution of the charges. On September 1, 2017, after reviewing a video recording of the shooting and receiving information from defense counsel, including that a security video recording of Peters's home during the time period surrounding the shooting showed that Peters only left his home for a short period and was wearing clothing that was different from the shooter, the government consented to the Peters's release from custody.

REQUEST FOR ORDER

8. The facts set forth in the previous section show that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records and other information described in Part II of Attachment A are relevant and material to an ongoing criminal investigation. Specifically, the information could either corroborate the eyewitness who identified Peters as the shooter or suggest that Peters was not present at the party at the time of the shooting. Accordingly, the United States requests that T-Mobile be directed to produce all items described in Part II of Attachment A to the proposed Order.

ORDER

The United States has submitted an application pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2703(d), requesting that the Court issue an Order requiring T-Mobile, an electronic communications service provider located in Parsipanny, New Jersey, to disclose the records and other information described in Attachment A to this Order.

The Court finds that the United States has offered specific and articulable facts showing that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the records or other information sought are relevant and material to an ongoing criminal investigation.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2703(d), that T-Mobile shall, within ten days of the date of this Order, disclose to the United States the records and other information described in Attachment A to this Order.

Dated: Brooklyn, New York
